

Fairfield County Acceptable Internet Use Policy

1.0 Overview

Fairfield County's intentions for publishing an Acceptable Use Policy are not to impose restrictions that are contrary to Fairfield County's established culture of openness, trust and integrity. Fairfield County is committed to protecting Fairfield County's employees, partners and the County from illegal or damaging actions by individuals, either knowingly or unknowingly.

Internet/Intranet/Email-related systems, including but not limited to computer equipment, software, operating systems, storage media, network accounts providing electronic mail, WWW browsing, and FTP, are the property of Fairfield County. These systems are to be used for business purposes in serving the interests of the County, and of our clients and customers in the course of normal operations. Please review Human Resources policies for further details.

Effective security is a team effort involving the participation and support of every Fairfield County employee and affiliate who deals with information and/or information systems. It is the responsibility of every computer user to know these guidelines, and to conduct their activities accordingly.

2.0 Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to outline the acceptable use of computer equipment at Fairfield County. These rules are in place to protect the employee and Fairfield County. Inappropriate use exposes Fairfield County to risks including virus attacks, compromise of network systems and services, and legal issues.

3.0 Scope

This policy applies to employees, contractors, consultants, temporaries, and other workers at Fairfield County, including all personnel affiliated with third parties. This policy applies to all equipment that is owned or leased by Fairfield County.

4.0 Policy

4.1 General Use and Ownership

I. While Fairfield County's network administration desires to provide a reasonable level of privacy, users should be aware that the data they create on the computer

- systems remains the property of Fairfield County. Because of the need to protect Fairfield County's network, Administration cannot guarantee the confidentiality of information stored on any network device belonging to Fairfield County.
- 2. Employees are responsible for exercising good judgment regarding the reasonableness of personal use. Individual departments are responsible for creating guidelines concerning personal use of Internet/Intranet/Extranet systems. In the absence of such policies, employees should be guided by departmental policies on personal use, and if there is any uncertainty, employees should consult their supervisor or manager.
- 3. Fairfield County recommends that any information that users consider sensitive or vulnerable be encrypted. For security and network maintenance purposes, authorized individuals within Fairfield County may monitor equipment, systems and network traffic at any time, per Fairfield County's Audit Policy.
- 4. Fairfield County reserves the right to audit networks and systems on a periodic basis to ensure compliance with this policy.

4.2 Security and Proprietary Information

- L Information contained on Internet/Intranet/Extranet-related systems should be classified as either confidential or not confidential, as defined by the County confidentiality guidelines. Examples of confidential information include but are not limited to: County private, County strategies, specifications, and research data. Employees should take all necessary steps to prevent unauthorized access to this information.
- Keep passwords secure and do not share accounts. Authorized users are responsible for the security of their passwords and accounts. System level passwords should be changed at the discretion of the Information Technology Department, and user level passwords should be changed at the discretion of the employee's immediate supervisor.
- 3. All PCs, laptops and workstations should be secured with a password-protected screensaver with the automatic activation feature set at 10 minutes or less, or by logging-off when the host will be unattended.
- 4. Use encryption of information in if the option is available.
- 5. Because information contained on portable computers is especially vulnerable, special care should be exercised. Protect laptops in accordance with the guidelines provided by the Information Technology Department or your supervisor.
- 6. Postings by employees from a Fairfield County email address to newsgroups should contain a disclaimer stating that the opinions expressed are strictly their own and not necessarily those of Fairfield County, unless posting is in the course of business duties. Otherwise, postings to newsgroups are discouraged to protect the reputation of Fairfield County.
- 7. All hosts used by the employee that are connected to the Fairfield County Internet/Intranet/Extranet, whether owned by the employee or Fairfield County, shall be continually executing approved virus-scanning software with a current virus database unless overridden by departmental or group policy.
- 8. Employees must use extreme caution when opening e-mail attachments received from unknown senders, which may contain viruses, e-mail bombs, or Trojan horse code. Opening of email attachments is discouraged by the Information Technology Department unless prior discussion about it has been done.

4.3. Unacceptable Use

The following activities are, in general, prohibited. Employees may be exempted from these restrictions during the course of their legitimate job responsibilities (e.g., systems administration staff may have a need to disable the network access of a host if that host is disrupting production services).

Under no circumstances is an employee of Fairfield County authorized to engage in any activity that is illegal under local, state, federal or international law while utilizing Fairfield County-owned resources.

The lists below are by no means exhaustive, but attempt to provide a framework for activities which fall into the category of unacceptable use.

System and Network Activities

The following activities are strictly prohibited, with no exceptions:

- 1. Violations of the rights of any person or County protected by copyright, trade secret, patent or other intellectual property, or similar laws or regulations, including, but not limited to, the installation or distribution of "pirated" or other software products that are not appropriately licensed for use by Fairfield County.
- 2. Unauthorized copying of copyrighted material including, but not limited to, digitization and distribution of photographs from magazines, books or other copyrighted sources, copyrighted music, and the installation of any copyrighted software for which Fairfield County or the end user does not have an active license is strictly prohibited.
- 3. Exporting software, technical information, encryption software or technology, in violation of international or regional export control laws, is illegal. The appropriate management should be consulted prior to export of any material that is in question.
- 4. Introduction of malicious programs into the network or server (e.g., viruses, worms, Trojan horses, e-mail bombs, etc.).
- 5. Revealing your account password to others or allowing use of your account by others. This includes family and other household members when work is being done at home.
- 6. Using a Fairfield County computing asset to actively engage in procuring or transmitting material that is in violation of sexual harassment or hostile workplace laws in the user's local jurisdiction.
- 7. Making fraudulent offers of products, items, or services originating from any Fairfield County account.
- 8. Making statements about warranty, expressly or implied, unless it is a part of normal job duties.

- 9. Effecting security breaches or disruptions of network communication. Security breaches include, but are not limited to, accessing data of which the employee is not an intended recipient or logging into a server or account that the employee is not expressly authorized to access, unless these duties are within the scope of regular duties. For purposes of this section, "disruption" includes, but is not limited to, network sniffing, pinged floods, packet spoofing, denial of service, and forged routing information for malicious purposes.
- 10. Port scanning or security scanning is expressly prohibited unless prior notification to Fairfield County is made.
- 11. Executing any form of network monitoring which will intercept data not intended for the employee's host, unless this activity is a part of the employee's normal job/duty.
- 12. Circumventing user authentication or security of any host, network or account.
- 13. Interfering with or denying service to any user other than the employee's host (for example, denial of service attack).
- 14. Using any program/script/command, or sending messages of any kind, with the intent to interfere with, or disable, a user's terminal session, via any means, locally or via the Internet Intranet/Extranet.
- 15. Providing information about, or lists of, Fairfield County employees or constituents to parties outside Fairfield County without proper authorization.

Email and Communications Activities

- 1. Sending unsolicited email messages, including the sending of "junk mail" or other advertising material to individuals who did not specifically request such material (email spam).
- 2. Any form of harassment via email, telephone or paging, whether through language, frequency, or size of messages.
- 3. Unauthorized use, or forging, of email header information.
- 4. Solicitation of email for any other email address, other than that of the poster's account, with the intent to harass or to collect replies.
- 5. Creating or forwarding "chain letters", "Ponzi" or other "pyramid" schemes of any type.
- 6. Use of unsolicited email originating from within Fairfield County's networks of other Internet/Intranet/Extranet service providers on behalf of, or to advertise, any service hosted by Fairfield County or connected via Fairfield County's network.
- 7. Posting the same or similar non-business-related messages to large numbers of Usenet newsgroups (newsgroup spam).

4.4. Blogging

1. Blogging by employees, whether using Fairfield County's property and systems or personal computer systems, is also subject to the terms and restrictions set forth in this Policy. Limited and occasional use of Fairfield County's systems to engage in blogging is acceptable, provided that it is done in a professional and responsible manner, does not otherwise violate Fairfield County's policy, is not detrimental to Fairfield County's best interests, and does not interfere with an

- employees regular work duties and is authorized by your supervisor. Blogging from Fairfield County's systems is also subject to monitoring.
- 2. Fairfield County's Confidential Information policy also applies to blogging. As such, Employees are prohibited from revealing any Fairfield County confidential or proprietary information, trade secrets or any other material covered by Fairfield County's Confidential Information policy when engaged in blogging.
- 3. Employees shall not engage in any blogging that may harm or tarnish the image, reputation and/or goodwill of Fairfield County and/or any of its employees. Employees are also prohibited from making any discriminatory, disparaging, defamatory or harassing comments when blogging or otherwise engaging in any conduct prohibited by Fairfield County's Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment policy.
- 4. Employees may also not attribute personal statements, opinions or beliefs to Fairfield County when engaged in blogging. If an employee is expressing his or her beliefs and/or opinions in blogs, the employee may not, expressly or implicitly, represent themselves as an employee or representative of Fairfield County. Employees assume any and all risk associated with blogging.
- 5. Apart from following all laws pertaining to the handling and disclosure of copyrighted or export controlled materials, Fairfield County's trademarks, logos and any other Fairfield County intellectual property may also not be used in connection with any blogging activity

5.0 Enforcement

Any employee found to have violated this policy may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.
